

Copy of Dr. Dangar's Report on School

Exeter Training College
9th Dec^r 1890

To the Governors of the Colyton Grammar School.
Gentlemen.

I have the honour to inform you that I have inspected and examined your School, and beg leave to submit to you the following report:-

1. With regard to the fabric &c. I observe that great alterations have taken place in the offices, since my last visit; they are now all that can be desired; they are admirably planned and arranged, and are quite sufficient for their purpose - This is a real improvement -

The Dormitories are in good order, clean and suitably furnished; the ventilation is secured by keeping the doors open at night, and by an open window in the passage just outside - I am informed that the health of the boarders has been so good that no medical man has been called in during the tenure of office of the present master. In the upper room the boys have an admirable class room for their evening and other lessons it is admirably lighted by numerous windows, and in this respect is superior to the room below.

2. As to the Administration:- There is a suitable admission register, in which the names of new boys are entered, also an attendance register, I observe that the lads have been on the whole regular in attendance. The reading books and other apparatus are suitable.

3. As to attainments:-

I examined every boy in every subject of the time table, and inspected every copybook, note book and Drawing book throughout the School;-

The note books had been properly corrected, and revised.

daily by the Master, the copy books are very clean and tidy, the Drawing books are for the most part very elementary.

Religious Knowledge - Good in the upper Division, weak in the lower, the syllabus of work is too extensive for the younger lads, and the Master intends to curtail it next year, so he informs me.

Geography:- Satisfactory - Here the extent of work was less ambitious, and the result better.

History. Also Satisfactory.

Spelling - a Dictation Exercise very well done on the whole.

English Grammar. A good elementary knowledge - some of the boys did their parsing and analysis very well.

Arithmetic - Figures well made, papers neatly written, and the answers satisfactory.

Reading - Better than last year - the Repetition was not well said - the boys seemed to have forgotten the words, so great was the inaccuracy.

Latin and French - really well done, the sentences set were well translated, and the boys seemed to have a real grasp of their subject - I heard translations from Coesar, also from "La femme Siberienne" - in both languages there is good progress.

Algebra and Euclid:- Very good elementary work - high marks were gained by 8 boys.

Drill - a new feature, Sergt. Ford, Drill Instructor of the Volunteers, has a class of 17 boys, they have been at work during the greater part of the current term, and have certainly made excellent progress - the instructor is kind and encouraging to the lads, but keeps them smartly at work - Drill, apart from its value from a physical point of view, is of real service in teaching lads to render ready and prompt obedience to any order that may be given them.

I am informed that in one or two cases boys have returned to school after long absence from lessons, and that on their return they were found to have forgotten much of what they formerly knew. One lad, a fine grown young fellow, is distinctly deficient, from a mental point of view, a few others are anything but bright.

On the whole, I consider that the Master has thoroughly done his duty by the boys during the past 12 months. Higher results of course could be reached if he had assistance in teaching -

Herewith I append a schedule of marks, and I am glad to learn that the best boys are to be rewarded by Prizes,

Allow me to remain

Gentlemen

Your Obedient Servant

James G. Dangar.

Honiton, April 20th 1891

Dear Sir

Colyton Feoffees, v Kittle.

I understood the suggestion of the Judge was that the case ought to be settled on the ground that it was unfair of Mr Kittle to put the Feoffees to further expense to recover a small piece of ground which they had proved belonged to them and to which Mr Kittle had established no kind of title. If Mr Kittle will will now give up the piece of ground the subject of the action the Feoffees will pay the costs when properly taxed.

But if he will not give up the ground the proceedings will be continued as the Feoffees are not at Liberty to surrender property of which they are only Trustees.

Yours &c.
