Ada Beer.

Ada Beer's application for help to purchase a set of tusk was allowed to remain on the table.

Wall paintings

Mr H. Hooper, last month, on stripping the wall paper from the walls of the Feoffee Chamber for the purpose of repapering, found two wall paintings. (These had been seen by Mr Skinner some 10 or 15 years ago.)

The painting, on the west wall of the chamber, between the two windows, is a female figure, resting her left arm on the cross-bar of a large anchor painted black.

The other, on the north end of the east wall, near the strong cupboard, is a painting of the resurrection of our Lord. He is depicted stepping out (one foot being outside) of a black painted coffin shaped tomb, the lid of which is leaning against the tomb. There is apparently the figure of the angel, who "rolled away the stone". The figure of our Lord is only faintly shown from repeated scrapings.

Loan of books to Mr Skinner.

Mr Skinner took charge of two books. The loan of which was granted him at the last July meeting.

One is a folio book of Bailiffs' & Churchwardens' accounts commencing 1610. The other, a smaller book, is an index of the names of the annual Overseers. Both books are bound in brown calf.

E. H. Cornish
Chairman

17th September 1918.

Special Meeting

Of which each Member of the Chamber had notice, (with the exception of the Vicar who was away on military duty) to receive the Surveyor's Report and Valuation etc.

Present.

Mr Luning in the Chair.

Messrs Skinner, W. Davy, E. Davy, Stokes, Sprague, Smith, Board and Follett.

The Chairman, after reading the Minute, which was passed at the last Meeting, authorising this Meeting, reported that the Estates Committee had examined the rough draft report of the Surveyor (Mr R. Smell) and they thought it was satisfactory.

After a discussion on giving Mr Godfrey, of Ottery St. Mary, an opportunity to purchase the residence, which he occupies, by private contract, it was resolved on the motion of Mr Board, & seconded by Mr Smith, that the whole of the property under consideration be offered for sale by Public Auction.

The Surveyor's Report was examined and received favourably, with the exception of the portion under letter I - which, in the opinion of the Members present, should be valued at £500 instead of £400.

The Form of application for permission from the Charity Commission to sell the property was discussed. The information required under each paragraph was read and approved of by the Meeting.

Resolved that the application Form be signed by Messrs Luning, Smith, and Sprague.
